Effective HIV prevention programmes

27 January 2017

Effective HIV prevention combines behavioral, structural and biomedical interventions.

Effective HIV prevention programmes require a combination of behavioural, biomedical and structural interventions.

Find out more about effective HIV prevention programming.