

How is HIV transmitted from mother to baby?

27 January 2017

Taking HIV treatment properly can almost eliminate the risk of your baby being born with HIV

If you're a HIV-positive mother, take treatment during pregnancy and breastfeeding to prevent passing HIV to your baby.

Find out more about pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding and HIV.