

USA: new HIV infections among most-affected populations

27 September 2018

The impact of the HIV epidemic in the USA is more serious among some groups than others. People of colour have significantly higher rates of HIV infection than white Americans.

