

HIV treatment during pregnancy and breastfeeding

14 July 2017

If you are a woman living with HIV, taking treatment correctly during pregnancy and breastfeeding can virtually eliminate the risk of passing HIV to your baby.

AVERT.org

Taking treatment properly during pregnancy and breastfeeding will keep your baby free of HIV.

Find out more about pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding and HIV.