

You can't get HIV from eating fruit

03 October 2017

There's an online myth which circulates every few months about someone getting HIV from eating fruit. Sometimes the fruit has been injected with blood, sometimes the vendor selling the fruit has HIV and has cut themselves... whatever the back-story, it's a myth. You can't get HIV from eating fruit with blood on or in it.

Find out more about myths about HIV and AIDS.