Gay Health: Let's Talk About Sex

Video of Gay Health: Let's Talk About Sex

In our first video, Let's talk about sex, we aim to unpick the jargon around ‘safer sex’ for gay men, giving guys the knowledge to make choices that make sense for them, keep them healthy, and give them the freedom to have fun. Because, let’s face it, with advances in treatment and new ways to prevent HIV, there are lots of new words out there to describe your sexual status that can seem a little confusing, like on ‘PrEP’, or ‘undetectable’.

This video is the first in a series between Avert and Hornet – so check out the others for more!

What can you do?

Spread the word about the campaign!

We want as many gay men as possible to have the knowledge and freedom to make choices about their own sexual health:

- Watch and share our videos
- Read and share our new ‘Gay health, sex and HIV’ hub
- Watch out for more in the series!
